

Honors Course Form: Proposal

All Honors candidates must designate one course from their major program as an Honors Course (course must be at the 300 or 400 level). The professor, in consultation with the student, will determine an appropriate Honors component for the course. An Honors component might involve writing a more in-depth paper in a particular area of interest, additional readings, a presentation, or other modifications to a course's requirements. Ideally, the extra assignment will relate to the honors thesis in some way, perhaps taking up a similar topic though in a different piece of literature.

In the semester you are taking the course, turn in this form by midterm or earlier. You will need to have discussed the honors component with your course professor and agreed on an assignment and a deadline. Once you have, turn in this form.
